The Controversial Operation Phoenix: How It Roots Out Vietcons Suspects It someone decided to make a movie about Phoenix, one critic joked, the lead would be more a Gomer Pyle than a John Wayne. SAIGON, South Vietnam, Feb. 17—As a controversial operation known as Phoenix moves into its third year and to center stage today at Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings in Washington, American officials in Washington, American officials in washington, American officials contend that unfined with the procedure, they attempt to find and arrest the suspect. When they feel they have enough evidence, they attempt to find and arrest the suspect. The trouble is that in many official in many official in the district of dossiers," said one civilian officials in single sentence in a dossier say-will be released." When they feel they have enough evidence, they attempt to find and arrest the suspect of dossiers," said one civilian official. "You might have a single sentence in a dossier say-will be released." South Vietnamese officials in going that so and so heard the suspect talking about such and are less than enthusiastic. Saigon believe the program to such are less than enthusiastic. Saigon officials contend that unformation in the suspect talking about such and such are less than enthusiastic. Saigon officials contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong that the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a Vietcong contend that unformation in the suspect is a vietcong contend that unformati in Washington, American officals here privately continue to call it one of the most important and least successful programs in South Vietnam.

Designed by the United States Central Intelligence Agency to weed out an estimated 75,000 Vietcong political leaders and agents from the civilian population, the program is not the sinister, cloak-and-dagger, terror operation that some critics, including the Vietcong, have portrayed it to be, these officials insist.

"That's nonsense," one of them said. "Phoenix is just not a killing organization. The kinds of things they [Foreign Relations Committee members] are probably looking for are not happening that much—which is not to say they are not happening at all."

Sentence Without Trial

against a person suspected of being connected with the Vietpeing connected with the Viet-cong, they arrest him. If he is not released quickly—suspects often vanish out the back doors of police station within two hours of their arrests—he is taken to a province interroga-tion center. tion center.

A dossier on the suspect is then given to the Provincial Security Counci, whose powers as two years without trial.

Once the suspect has served a term in jall he is considered to have been renabilitated.

Some officials concede that many abuses have occurred under Phoenix and that the program has potential for seri-ous harm if it were used, for example, to harass legitimate political opposition. Yet in the over-all portrait of Phoenix gon officials contend that un-less the Vietcong's highly skilled political apparatus is destroyed, the Communist movement will continue to prosper regardless of how rany guerrillas and enemy soldiers are killed. In many contested areas, however, the local people appear hesitant to upset any informal accommodations made for the sake of survival.

"The local officials are perfectly capable of carrying out this program if they thought they were winning," one American said.

The Phoenix program called.

Finding the Suspects
Sometimes the arrest may involve a single local police-military and process the assumple to a single local police-military and the usually isn't.

The program's American advisers estimated recently that about 20 per cent of the suspects in 1969 were sentenced, and that only a fraction of those were imprisoned for the maximum two years. Most send them to their scores. This helps the one on Conson Island. Some them meet quotas set by higher headquarters.

ican said.

The Phoenix program, called Phung Hoang by the Vietnamese, was established with the money and organizational talents of the C.I.A. in late 1967. It was officially sanctioned by President Nguyen Van Thieu July 1, 1968.

Briefly, Phoenix works this Under the Ministry of the way: When local officials feel they have enough evidence tees and intelligence-gathering ligence officers borrowed by the agency.

Military Now in Charge

volved in Phoenix, all six are trailized."
military men. Last July 1, overall authority for American adat the local level, he is taken sorbed by U.S. military head-to a province interrogation cen-painted here, the program appears more notorious for inefficiency, corruption and bungling than for terror.

Like many other programs and local pacification of In Vietnam, Phoenix looks best on paper. Officials here argue that its controversial reputation has been built more out its secrecy than on its actions.

South Vietnamese military intelligence officer, an American intelligence adviser—usually a lieutenant — special police adviser—usually a lieutenant — special police ruling body, not a judicial body. The evidence is examined, and the suspect is either released or thoughts about the program's secrecy. Premier Tran Thien make it this far, an estimated aspect to the people for aid in identify-secrecy than on its actions.

Finding the Suspects

headquarters.

"One thing about the Viet-cause by imprisoning a man namese—they will meet every in their own jails they receive quota that's established for a prisoner-food allotment from them," said one critic of the program. "That's what makes been count to do this, however, been named to do the down named to do this, however, been named to do this, however, been named to do this, how the down named to do the down named to do this, how the down named to do the down named to dead bodies?"

In 1969, according to official from time to time with local police officials.

"neutralized." That number included 8,515 reportedly captured, 6,187 killed and 4,832 who defected.

Once a suppose '

who defected.
Once a suspect is captured, he automatically becomes a effect on the statistics in the "neutralized" Vietcong and part of the offical tallies for the property.

This is true despite the Probably the most controver-fact that many suspects are sial arm of the Phoenix proreleased an hour or two later gram in each province is a through the back doors of local group called the Provincial police stations. Starting this Reconnaissance Unit. It converse, officials say, suspects will sists of a dozen or more South Security Counci, whose powers are those of a ruling body, not a judicial one. The council may, however, free the suspect or brder him jailed for as long this moment according to offinal this moment according to the way to be sentenced before class, of the 441 Americans in they will be counted as "neu-

The program was set up to operate at the local level, where the problems begin.

At each "district intelligence coordinating and operations of the province Meterogation central ter for questioning and then confined until his dossier comes before the Province Security Council, composed of the province of the province meterogation central ter for questioning and then confined until his dossier comes before the Province Meterogation central ter for questioning and then confined until his dossier comes before the Province Meterogation central terms of the program was set up to operate at the local level, where the problems begin are the province meterogation central terms of the program was set up to operate at the local level, where the problems begin are the problems begin are the problems begin and then confined until his dossier comes before the province Security and the problems begin are the problems beg before the Province Security and draft-dodgers, receive 15.—Council, composed of the prov-ince chief, his deputy for intellinary soldier gets 4,000 piasters. coordinating and operations center," as they are called, teams usually consisting of a usually two or three other south Vietnamese military intelligence, officer and American that the suspect is a Vietcong agent, he can be "detained" without trial for up to two years. But he usually isn't.

tant to do this, however, be-sentence, the suspect is given the head count so deceptive. sentence, the suspect is given How do you know they are not a Government identification assigning names and titles to card and released on parole.

sists of a dozen or more South Vietnamese mercenaries, originally recruited and paid hand-somely by the C.I.A. to serve under the province chief as the major "action arm" of the program.

The members of these units usually an assortment of local hoodlums, soldiers of fortune, nary soldier gets 4,000 piasters.

Some Saigon officials concede that these units have been employed in extortion and terthem. In many areas, Awarted For Release 2001/08/07: CIA-RDP72-00337R000300060024-4 posters were distributed.

In one Mekong Delta town, an American official said, Phoenix operatives had worked for months trying to find a Victorial said, an hour after his "wanted" poster was displayed, a woman appeared at the police station and said the agent lived next door.